Did you know that over 44 million people, including 13 million children, experience food insecurity annually? Food insecurity is the official term used by the USDA to describe the condition of not having access to sufficient food, or food of adequate quality, to meet one’s basic needs. It can be temporary or long-term and have serious consequences on people’s health and well-being.

Dimitri House has been an active advocate in the fight against hunger for over thirty-nine years and we have been noticing some troubling trends in the past year. You’ll find a copy of our annual report for 2023 included with this newsletter, but we’d like to share an anecdote from a new recipient in our food cupboard. While we’ve changed his name to protect his privacy, we want to stress that his situation is hardly unique and is becoming more of the norm for those we find ourselves serving.

Todd called Dimitri House to see how he could receive emergency food. When we told him about how our process worked, he was both surprised and relieved at how easy the process was. As he began to complete the intake application over the phone, he confessed that he was embarrassed to be making this phone call. “I’m a hardworking man, trying to support my family. I have two jobs – I make deliveries and do small, odd jobs like painting and repair work.” “My wife isn’t working right now because of the baby – we couldn’t afford daycare. I’m so ashamed to call, but by the time I pay all of the other bills, we just never end up having enough money for food and diapers.” After assuring Todd that he had absolutely nothing to be embarrassed about, we let him know that he could come back to see us every thirty days, for as long as he had a need.

Our drop-in lunch program has also seen a substantial increase in demand. In addition to more meals served during our regular lunch hours, we have been providing meals to help support the efforts of a local homeless outreach team that bring food to those in need on the weekends. We strive to ensure that our meals are as nutritious and tasty as possible. Even though we love to hear from our guests that they keep coming back because “the food is so darn good and I like the people here,” we also know that we are helping to stave off hunger.

No longer does Dimitri House serve only those on fixed incomes – we are working to support those in need on the weekends. We strive to ensure that our meals are as nutritious and tasty as possible. Even though we love to hear from our guests that they keep coming back because “the food is so darn good and I like the people here,” we also know that we are helping to stave off hunger.

We want to thank every one of you, our loyal and devoted supporters, for all the food donations and financial support that you have given us in our endeavors. However, the fight is far from over and we ask that you please consider the need in our city as we head into the hot summer months. We are always thrilled with financial support but also want to encourage you to consider starting a food drive to help keep our shelves stocked. We’re always here with ideas to get you off the ground and look forward to partnering with you to keep hunger at bay in Rochester.

REMEMBERING MARIE A. KOSEL

It was with great sadness that we heard of the loss of one of our founders from Corpus Christi days on December 5, 2023. Marie, who so many of us knew, was a huge part of the dream team that started Dimitri House. Father Callan drew her back to the church, and she embraced her calling although she would often say she was “up to her eyeballs” in work. Faith always saw her through, and she often encouraged others with that same commitment. She could be tough, but she approached everyone with a sincere desire to help. She saw the need and was always a willing participant when it came to packing food, cooking with Angie, or serving. If Dimitri House had a need, she met that need. Everyone who worked with her, fellow volunteers, and clients alike, loved her! Dimitri House was her passion and she always ensured it was running well. Even after her official retirement she still came by periodically to visit and ensure that the next executive director was completing our mission: “To provide food and affordable housing for our neighbors in need with love and acceptance, joining them on their journey toward self-sufficiency.” Marie, we miss you, your devotion, and your compassion for all that you served. There is no doubt in our minds that you were an angel both here on earth and now in heaven.

VOLUNTEER HIGHLIGHT: STEVE HALL

“There’s nothing that sounds sweeter than ‘this food is so good: It never gets old hearing that!”

Volunteering is not just about giving back – it’s about forming meaningful connections and contributing to a cause you believe in. Anyone who has met Steve Hall will tell you he embraces volunteering wholeheartedly. The dedication that Steve gives to Dimitri House is worthy of admiration. Whether it’s whipping up his famous mashed potatoes, helping carry the heaviest of packages, sharing a story to bring a laugh, or picking up any shift that needs to be covered, Steve is always there with a smile, and ready to rock and roll. He’s such a Rock Star that Foodlink recognized him for his incredible dedication at their annual conference in April! We are so incredibly grateful to you, Steve! “Let’s Eat!”

BRINGING PEOPLE TOGETHER

Events organized by Dimitri House play a crucial role in raising awareness, funds, and fostering community engagement. By bringing people together through events, Dimitri House is able to further our mission and make a positive impact on the community.

The last few months have been full of an exciting lineup of events and fundraisers!

We flashed back to the roaring 20s for an evening of dress-up and investigation at our Murder Mystery dinner in October; and enjoyed a superb evening of wine tasting at our Grape Escape fundraiser in February. We spent an afternoon of cards flying at our annual Euchre tournament and relished a night of incredible music and laughs at Abilene Bar & Lounge. We are tremendously grateful to who all that came out to support Dimitri House’s cause and look forward to seeing you at our upcoming events in 2024!

No longer does Dimitri House serve only those on fixed incomes – we are working hard to ensure that those who fall under the umbrella of the “working poor” are able to put food on their dinner tables as well as those who simply cannot make ends meet anymore. Our cupboards rarely stay as full of food as they once did – food flies off the shelves some days faster than we can replace it.
